

Prior to following her heart into real estate, Michelle was a paralegal at a boutique South Bay family law and estate-planning firm, serving high-net-worth families and individuals. This is where she gained her experience to help her clients solve very personal problems.

Michelle's proactive approach and open style of communication help facilitate each transaction with efficiency and the uppermost standards of excellence. Her continued commitment to upholding the highest ethics, along with excellent customer service, has made her a favorite amongst some of the most discerning clientele and her fellow colleagues. She knows how to help her clients solve very personal problems and strives to make sure every client achieves his or her goal.

When Michelle can find the time, she absolutely loves traveling to new places with her husband and embracing new cultures. She has two miniature Australian Shepherds that she enjoys walking in the Riviera Village and anyone who knows her, knows she loves the Los Angeles Dodgers.
